Spring 2022

A Heartwarming Story

When she received the $8,000 check from the Herbert and Julie Guenther Family Charitable Fund at Ashland County Community Foundation, Associated Charities Executive Director, Chris Box, was blown away. It was enough money to fund the organization's "Coats for Kids" program for the entire season.

The Guenthers recently decided to use distributions from their donor advised fund to provide annual support for the "Coats For Kids" program.

"Our passion is helping disadvantaged youth, so when ACCF President/CEO Jim Cutright suggested directing dollars from our donor advised fund to 'Coats For Kids,' it seemed like a great fit," Herb Guenther said. "We love knowing our fund will sustain this vital program year after year."

As an expression of gratitude for the couple's generosity, Associated Charities is renaming the program "Guenther Family Coats For Kids."

"For us, it's not really about having our name on something, but we do hope our willingness to do this publicly inspires others in our community to find ways to make their own impact," Guenther said.

And that's exactly what happened. Inspired by the Guenthers' story, another donor family reached out to inquire about other needs at Associated Charities. When Box described a need for kids' shoes, the donor pledged to fund the organization's footwear purchases annually.

Thanks to these two donor families, Associated Charities can take advantage of sale prices to stock up on clothes, shoes and coats strategically. In the past, the organization would purchase items piecemeal as cashflow allowed.

More importantly, these gifts will ensure no Ashland County children will have to go to school without appropriate clothing or outerwear.

"What a wonderful testament to the generosity of our community, and to the good we can do together as a community foundation," Cutright said. "We connect people who care with causes that matter, and that's why we're 'Here For Good.'"

GREETINGS, FRIENDS...

The team here, at your community foundation, continues to be amazed at the spirit of generosity that exists in Ashland County!

In the December-ending quarter of 2021, a record 28 new named funds were created, bringing the total number of funds under our stewardship to 594.

How is that level of growth possible? Simple really, it's all about confidence. Folks know that we take our stewardship role seriously and that we will carefully manage permanent endowment assets, ensuring that their wishes are met well into the future.

Beyond that long-term thinking, though, is the excitement of seeing your charitable dollars at work right now, which is why "donor advised funds," which serve as your family's very own charitable grantmaking instrument, have become the fund of choice for many of our donors.

In fact, 50 of the 58 donor advised funds we hold have been established in just the past 10 years, including 8 of those funds in this past quarter.

While we will always encourage sustainability of organizations and programs through endowment, we recognize that community progress is an ever-changing landscape, and that fluidity and flexibility is key in charitable giving.

At ACCF, we take pride in our donors being catalysts for good in our community, and the role that our board and staff can play in helping turn visions into reality.

If you'd like to learn more about how you can join our "ACCF Family" of those making a difference, feel free to reach out. If you're already one of more than 7,200 donors who are assisting us in improving the quality of life in Ashland County, thank you for your continued support of our efforts!

Have a Great Day!
Jim Cutright

100 Years Loved

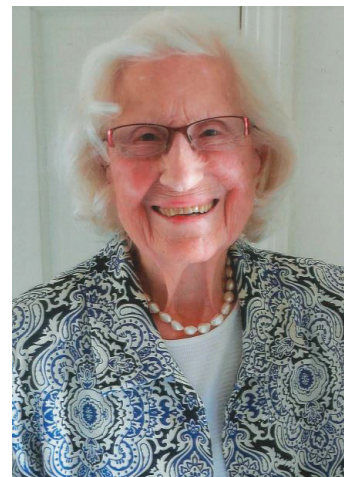

On New Year's Eve, we had the pleasure of celebrating the 100th birthday of Ashland community matriarch and ACCF founding president, Dr. Lucille Garber Ford.

Dr. Ford marked the milestone by receiving guests at Brethren Care Wellness Center.

With her impressive list of academic degrees, leadership roles and awards, Dr. Ford is admired as a trailblazer and a visionary. Meanwhile, her impact on the individuals around her and on our community as a whole cannot be overstated.

"Ashland is an entirely different place because of her," Mayor Matt Miller told the Ashland Times-Gazette.

Ford founded Ashland County Community Foundation in 1995, and she skillfully led our organization for its first 17 years. Congratulations, Dr. Ford, on 100 years of a life well-lived.

Making an IMPACT

High school students on our IMPACT Youth Council have enjoyed learning about philanthropy through hands-on experiences in their community. This spring, the council will make grant award decisions to fund programs and projects serving local youth.

In Loving Memory

Hearts are heavy at ACCF following the passing of one of our trustees, and a great supporter of the Foundation. Jay Myers died on December 8, 2021— his 65th birthday.

Jay served as a trustee for 15 of ACCF's 27 years and was a close friend of ACCF President/CEO Jim Cutright.

"Jay was humble, kind and generous with both his time and resources, but he also had that biting humor that made our time together so enjoyable," Cutright said.

Jay was Vice President and minority owner of Simonson Construction Services, Inc., where he spent 22 years supporting the growth and development of his hometown. He took pride in his work on major projects for Ashland University, UH Samaritan Medical Center, Wil Research and Advanced Ceramics, to name a few.

He also served on many boards in Ashland, including the boards of Brethren Care Village, Trinity Lutheran Church and the Ashland Cemetery Association. ACCF held a special place in Jay's heart, and he considered it a privilege to serve on our board.

Jay is survived by his best friend and love of his life, Liz. Memorial contributions may be made to the Jay K. Myers Memorial Fund for the benefit of the Ashland County Cancer Association, held by Ashland County Community Foundation.

Donor Feature

For Cam and Jordan Peden, one of the last stops on the way out of Ashland was among the most meaningful.

The couple was busy preparing for a January move to Portland, Maine, where Cam accepted a job at United Way of Southern Maine. Still, they made space both in their schedule and in their budget to establish a donor advised fund at Ashland County Community Foundation.

"Ashland was always great to us. It's important that we share those blessings back," Cam said. "We felt like leaving a legacy was the right thing to do, especially in the hands of an organization we trust so much. The work the ACCF does is incredible, and we are proud to play a small part in that."

The Pedens say they look forward to adding dollars to their fund in the coming years, as well as to using their fund distributions to support their favorite charitable causes.

For more information about the benefits of donor advised funds or to set up your own fund, contact Jim Cutright at 419-281-4733 or cutty@ashlandforgood.org.

Given Back

In 27 years, ACCF has given back $20,855,576 to our community.

Noteworthy

- Kristin Aspin, our Chief Program Officer, was inducted into the Ashland County Women of Achievement in November. In addition to her leadership role at ACCF, Kristin sits on the boards of Rotary Club of Ashland and Park Street Brethren Church. She has also served on the United Way Community Investment Committee and as treasurer for the Ashland County Humane Society. Congratulations, Kristin, on this well-deserved recognition.

- Our Women's Fund's Mother's Day Card Initiative is underway. If you make a donation to our Women's Fund by April 20 and designate one or more honorees, we will send a card to the woman being honored, or the family of the woman being remembered, the week of Mother's Day.

- We are accepting applications for Hess Educational Loans through June 15. These competitive loans are for Ashland County residents or graduates of Ashland County high schools who have a GPA of 2.5 or higher and a household net worth less than $250,000. Hess Loans are interest-free during the time the student is in college, plus one additional year.

- Lori Gottfried was the recipient of the Women's Fund's 2021 Dr. Lucille G. Ford Freedom From Selfishness Award. We extend our congratulations to Gottfried, who is best-known as a pillar of the ACCESS homeless shelter program.
