The Anderson Community Club was organized by the residents of the Old Anderson School District in the 1930's for fun, socialization, and community support. The Anderson School building was purchased by the Club and monthly meetings were held there until it was sold in the 1990's. This was a wonderful family-oriented organization and lifelong friendships came from it. Because the group wanted to encourage future generations, it was decided to establish a scholarship in the Club's name.

Sharon E. Anderson Culinary Arts Memorial Scholarship

Mark Anderson established this scholarship to honor his late wife of 24 years. The Sharon E. Anderson Culinary Arts Memorial Scholarship Fund is to benefit a student from an Ashland County high school (preferably Mapleton, Sharon's Alma Mater) each year to help with attending a culinary arts school.

Sharon was an avid cook her entire life and won a cooking award and kitchen design award in high school. She developed Crohn's disease at the age of 19 which kept her from pursuing a career in the culinary arts. Over the next 40 years she wowed a lot of people with her cooking. She helped many family and friends by cooking, setting up, serving, and cleaning up many weddings, graduations, and anniversary celebrations. Every year at Christmas she provided a varied and generous cookie and candy tray to many people. Everyone raved about her cookies and candies and looked forward to Christmas time every year.

In 2015 Sharon developed rectal cancer. Over the next 3 years Sharon had radiation, a 7-hour 14-minute surgery, and 3 sessions of chemotherapy all to no avail. Sharon passed away at 60 years old on November 26, 2018 at her home of 24 years surrounded by family. This scholarship will keep alive Sharon's love and dedication to helping others through cooking.

A.C.T.A. understands that even as the field of education changes and adapts to an ever-

Ashland County-West Holmes Career Center Students "NEXT STEP" Scholarship

"In my years working as a staff member of the Ashland County-West Holmes Career Center I repeatedly observed students rise from being average, indecisive and sometimes unmotivated to excelling in skills and talents they didn't realize they possessed," the anonymous donor who created this scholarship wrote upon creation of the fund. "Many times, their vocational teacher was their mentor, their hero, the wind beneath their wings. Yet the choice to step up and excel was in their hearts and hands. My intention is to help the recipients of the scholarship to build on these skills and talents for a successful and rewarding career."

Ashland High School Class of 1952 Scholarship

The Senior Class of 1952 chose as its motto, "With Knowledge and Understanding, the Future is Ours." At the class's 60th Class Reunion, class members decided to establish a scholarship fund as a token of thanksgiving for the many years of learning that laid the foundation for each individual's place in the world. It was their hope that future recipients of this scholarship would also grow in knowledge and understanding, where life leads them.

Ashland High School Class of 1957 Scholarship

The Class of '57 created this scholarship to honor the class's values of passion, enthusiasm and commitment.

AHS Class of 1962 Scholarship

The class of 1962 was blessed to be filled with people who maintained lifelong friendships. Some of the bonds of friendship began in first grade classes at Pleasant Street, Arthur Street, Grant Street, Montgomery, Osborn, Taft, Edison, and Lincoln Street Schools, while others were formed later at Ashland High School. In celebration of friendships made in the Ashland City Schools, the class voted at their 40th class reunion to fund a perpetual scholarship for an AHS student. Class members hoped that long after the last member of the class of 1962 passed on, there would be a piece of the class spirit remaining and encouraging young students to move toward their life goals. George Bernard Shaw's quote says it all: "Life is no brief candle to me. It is a sort of splendid torch which I've got hold of for the moment and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before passing it on to future generations."

It is in that spirit that the Club wishes to support educational opportunities for the youth of Ashland County with the establishment of a permanent scholarship endowment fund. Special consideration is given to applicants who have a parent or grandparent who is a member of a Lions Club, or a student who is a Leo Club member.

Edwin and Ina Ayers Scholarship

The Edwin and Ina Ayers Scholarship Fund was established to honor Edwin and Ina's hard work and perseverance and the long history of care giving by Coe/Ayers family members.

Sarah Letitia Coe Ayers, Edwin's mother, traveled from the Perrysville area in the early 1900's to Cincinnati to attend a nursing program. Due to an epidemic in the Cincinnati area, she came home before completing the program and never returned. Her sisters Winifred, Grace and Louise lived in Perrysville, with Winifred providing home care for families during the early part of the 20th century. Ina Ayers, while not a paid caregiver, provided for the care of Grace and Sarah Letitia in their older years and also cared for Edwin at home for 2 years after he suffered a stroke, an undertaking that required tremendous effort and patience on her part.

More recently, the family has included a number of Registered Nurses, those being Salome Ayers Truax, Dorothy Ayers Stitzlein, Nancy Ayers Heasley, Janet Scott Ayers, Jackie Truax, Kathryn O'Connell Truax, and Carly Ayers. Amazingly, as Registered Nurses, these family members have provided nearly 200 years of nursing service!

This scholarship will assist students in baccalaureate nursing programs throughout the entire U.S. and will honor the memory of Edwin and Ina Ayers as well as the service of all the nurses and care givers in the Coe/Ayers family while supporting the education of future nurses.

With humble beginnings, both were instilled with a strong work ethic and a giving spirit for those who struggle through challenging times. Remaining near family was an important value, so after they were married they moved to Ashland where Bruce became an accountant with Hess & Clark and Shirley worked in the school cafeteria at Edison Elementary while continuing to help in the family restaurant on weekends. Family, friends and their faith in God have all shaped their lives. They often were found dropping what they were doing to help someone in need. This scholarship is intended to bless someone who exhibits a strong work ethic but may be going through difficult circumstances in life. As often heard from Shirley...In God We Trust!

Wayne E. and Elizabeth Ann Brechbuhler Scholarship

Wayne and Elizabeth (nee Norris) were lifelong residents of North Industry, Ohio except for several years during WWII when Wayne was stationed elsewhere. Wayne was quiet and loving; he possessed an intuitive knowledge of things mechanical and electrical and could repair or build almost anything. Elizabeth was a dedicated homemaker, a wonderful piano player and a lifelong protector of the English language. They valued their church, their family, their friends and community, and were avid participants in these as well as dedicated to each. They were active in scouting and local clubs. Education and learning—both didactic and practical—were central in their lives and the lives they envisioned for their children. Wayne ended his formal education after the 12th grade, but Elizabeth went to college after their two older sons were educated (and prior to the college education of their youngest child) and graduated with a degree in English from Malone College in 1974. This scholarship is envisioned to help Canton South students further their education with the scholarship endowed for perpetuity.

Jessika Brown Memorial Scholarship

Determined. Inspiring. Beautiful. Strong. These are just a few of the words her teammates used to describe Jessika Brown, whose life ended after a courageous battle against pneumonia at the young age of 15 years.

The words only begin to illustrate the inspiration that Jessika was to everyone who knew her or heard her story. A sophomore at Ashland High School, Jessika was the starting libero for the varsity volleyball team – a spunky, energetic player who set high goals and worked her absolute hardest to reach those goals. She was known for her competitive spirit and all-out effort on the court. Jessika was equally determined in the classroom. She took pride in achieving academic excellence and had a passion for helping others achieve their goals as well. She had a kind and caring soul, beautiful on the inside and out. This scholarship is intended for a female student who has the same passion and zest for life but also who isn't afraid to face any obstacle that comes her way with determination and the will to overcome it.

Allison K. Bucher Memorial Scholarship

There is a quote that goes “Life is like a camera, focus on what’s important, capture the good times, develop from the negatives, and if things don’t work out, take another shot.” This was one of Allison K. Bucher’s favorite quotes and, in many ways, it is a quote that perfectly describes her and the life she lived.

Allison was born December 1, 2000 and died on April 23, 2018 at the age of 17. While her time here on Earth was far too short, she made sure to make the most of it and live a full life. Allison was many things in her life. She was a daughter, a sister, a cousin, a best friend, and much more, but no matter what role she played, she always dedicated herself 100%. She was the kind of person that when they entered your life, you knew it because, all of a sudden, there was so much more added to your own existence. Allison was kind and compassionate in a world that is full of malice. She was all accepting in a world that is all too quick to pass judgement and exclude. She loved every person she met unconditionally, even when this world tried to tell her that there should be conditions. It did not matter to her who or what someone was, they existed in this world and she loved them for them. Allison, like the quote says, focused on what was important. What was important to her was that every person is facing a battle we know nothing about, and so we should meet them where they are and love them simply because they are another struggling human that is deserving of love. Another thing that was important to her was living each day to the fullest, which leads to the next part of the quote, capturing the good times.

Allison quite literally captured the good times during her life since she was a photographer. She received her first camera when she was 8 and amassed an enormous collection of pictures as she pursued her dream of being a photographer for National Geographic. These photos showcase everything that Allison found beautiful in the world and in her life. She has pictures that range from brightly colored flowers to breath-taking landscapes and everything in-between. Her favorite photos, however, were those of the people she loved the most. There are hundreds of photos of Allison's family and friends and in every photo are smiling faces. Allison captured the good times, the moments so full of joy that years later the sound of laughter still rings out from the pictures of them. By looking at these pictures one can see how she lived each day to the fullest, never letting a moment slip by that she could use to bring beauty and happiness into someone's life. Just like everyone else though, not every day of Allison's life was a good day, but she always found something good in every day.

Allison was a person that never let any negative thing keep her down for long. She always strived to develop from the negatives, use what went wrong as a learning experience so she could grow. If Allison fell down seven times she would always stand up eight, and if it was a friend that fell then she would always help them back up. If something did not work out the way that she planned, she would then take another shot. This is how her life follows the last half of the quote. Everyone has bad days, but how we deal with those bad days determines who we become. We will never know the person Allison would become in the future because her life was cut short, but we can always remember the person that she was.

Allison was a photographer and her life the camera. She focused on what was important, captured the good times, always developed from the negatives, and took another shot when something didn't work out.

William & Martha Buckingham Scholarship

Renee had a passion for life and teaching science. Her love for her family, friends, colleagues, and her students was evident in her daily interaction with all. She pushed through many rough days to live her life and do what she loved. Renee ("Mrs.

Burnison") taught Chemistry and Physics at Hillsdale High School for 9 years. Renee loved to spend time and go on vacations with her family, support her daughters in all their activities, and worship God as a member of the praise band Simply Worship at Shreve United Methodist Church. Her faith in God was evident in all she did. Renee's legacy will live on through those she touched by her life. Renee fought a courageous battle that ended on January 21, 2017. Her family, friends, and colleagues are honored to memorialize Renee with this scholarship and continue her legacy of sharing God's love with others.

At the time of his death in 2011, he had investments set aside to fund the college education of his six grandchildren. Carol was raised on a farm near Ashland and was active in 4-H. In school she participated in the band and orchestra, and was secretary of her senior class. She worked as an aide in special education at Taft and Edison Schools, also walking to work every day. Mary M. Case Memorial Scholarship

Mary M. Case lived in the Mansfield and Ashland areas all her life. She graduated from Mansfield High School in 1933 and worked as medical secretary for Mansfield General Hospital and for two physicians. (Because of the depression years, Ms. Case had to focus on commercial subjects in order to prepare for a job.) A member of Trinity Lutheran Church and the Ruth Chapter of Eastern Star, Mary was an avid bridge player and thrived on the possibilities that life offered. Ronald Crall Family Scholarship ALWAYS an active, healthy, nonstop farmer guy, Ron, along with his wife Kolleen, was blessed to have another child later in life. He thoroughly enjoyed their daughter, Grace. Ron started having symptoms in 2009 when Grace was 6, and had been disabled in a wheelchair from April 2010 until his death. Although Grace doesn't remember when her dad could chase her and carry her on his shoulders, she enjoyed spending lots of time on his lap watching way too much TV, stealing his wheelchair and making her dad happy.

Life with a terminal illness takes a toll on a family – emotionally, physically and financially. The Crall family experienced all of this over the years, some aspects more than others. Being a hardworking family for generations, they were wise and frugal with all of God's blessings. Upon Ron's passing, Kolleen and Grace were positioned to be financially stable enough for Grace to be able to attend college without the added stress of financial worries. The Cralls desired to share this same gift of a college education, perhaps with a student in a similar situation to Grace that might not be as fortunate, thus extending the Crall legacy.

Jim and Kristi have been extremely active in the community they call home and have proudly provided financial support to a number of worthy charitable causes in Ashland County. However, it was due to their children, Bradley and Brittany, both having outstanding experiences as Ashland High School golfers and both graduating from Ohio University, that Jim and Kristi elected to create a family scholarship fund that would be tailored to other students with similar interests and goals.

Debra E. "Pebbles" Dilgard Memorial Scholarship

Debra E. (Pebbles) Dilgard was diagnosed with ovarian cancer in September 2002. She was determined to fight it. She came up with the idea to design and make “cancer bracelets” and send the profits to cancer research. She had sold and shipped the bracelets all over the United States. In doing so she touched many lives. By reaching out to many people, Debbie gave them hope and would tell them, “don’t give up.” She knew what they were going through and just wanted to help them cope with the disease. Debbie, along with family, had made more than 3,000 bracelets the first three years. After two surgeries and many chemo treatments, Debbie passed away in October of 2009, as God had other plans for her. Debbie’s legacy will never be forgotten because of all the lives she touched and cared about, along with being active in Relay for Life. Debbie’s family continues to carry on her mission of making and selling the “cancer bracelets”, as she would want people to continue to fight cancer and find a cure. Cancer research was very important to Debbie along with the medical fields associated with it. She knew the way to make each day seem more worthwhile and would do the nicest things for people while always wearing a smile. She made this world a better place by practicing the art of reaching out to others and by giving....from the heart.

Newton E. & Hester G. Dilgard Memorial Scholarship

Born May 6, 1904, the importance of getting an education was, no doubt, instilled in Newt at an early age. He left high school in the tenth grade to work, so he could help support his widowed mother. He was a self-made man. Rising above his limited high school education, he became a successful business leader, establishing his own insurance, real estate and auctioneer business.

Serving on the Ashland County School Board, he was instrumental in helping form the consolidation of the Hayesville and Jeromesville school systems that became the Hillsdale School District, revealing his belief that an expanded education was a necessity in a changing society, including a very high regard for vocational training. His extended family continues to benefit from his example of perseverance, integrity, hard work and desire for learning.

It is in memory of these parents and the legacy they left that this scholarship is established, promoting the value of education and the pursuit for “excellence” in one’s chosen occupation.

Bre McKean Memorial Scholarship

Live life by your own rules. Make people laugh. Never give up. Work hard, play hard. Speak your mind. Include everyone. Give respect, and earn respect. Always look for the positive. This is what it means to “Live Like Bre,” a phrase coined by a neighbor and friend of Breanne McKean shortly after Bre’s unexpected death at the age of 17. Bre passed away Sept. 29, 2023 after collapsing on the field at Mapleton High School’s homecoming football game. She was a senior, celebrating her spot on the homecoming court. She was happy and vibrant. And then she was gone. Bre was the teammate who made everyone laugh. She was the classmate who got the class discussion rolling and went out of her way to include the new kid. She had definite opinions, and she wasn’t afraid to verbalize them. She had nicknames for all the adults around the school and she sometimes scoffed at the rules, but her behavior wasn’t perceived as rude, and her jokes weren’t made at the expense of others. She just lived life in her own way, and she didn’t take herself too seriously. Still, she excelled in school as a member of the National Honor Society and was a driven three-season athlete, surprising doctors by returning to the volleyball court just six months after tearing her ACL. Bre’s friendliness, humor, determination, optimism and sportsmanship were admired by friends, teammates, coaches and athletic opponents alike. The impact she made on everyone around her was evidenced by the outpouring of community support upon her death.

Barbara Lamson Miller Scholarship (for AU students)

Barbara Lamson Miller Teacher Scholarship (for MVHS students)

“Everything good that has happened in my life came because of the college scholarship I received,” Barbara wrote upon creation of this scholarship. “It literally changed the direction of my life! While at Ashland College, I became a teacher, met my wonderful husband and found the Lord Jesus Christ as my Savior. Without the scholarship there was no chance of my attending college. My parents were divorced when I was three and my brother and I went to live with our grandparents until I left for college.

“Following high school, while working as a private secretary at what was then Cooper-Bessemer, our family doctor asked me if I had ever thought of attending college. I told him I couldn’t go because I didn’t have money for college. Then he said, “If you had the money would you be interested?” I said I would. He then brought up the subject of scholarships.

“When the scholarship became a reality, I had to decide on a major. I didn’t have a clue, but even though I did not know God in the personal way I do now, He spoke to me with such clarity saying,

"You're going to college and you're going to be a teacher!" I never questioned it, and when I finally began teaching first grade, I remember saying to my husband that I loved teaching so much I would teach without being paid – which was almost the case – annual income was a little over $2,000!

"Montgomery School in Ashland was my first teaching position. The following August, Jack and I were married and moved to Maryland where I taught in the District of Columbia for two years. We then moved to Mansfield, Ohio and I taught four years at Mifflin School. The following October our first child arrived. I stayed home and in time became a full-time mother of four. We now have ten grandchildren and two great grandchildren. After our youngest child left the nest, I began writing and teaching ladies' Bible studies.

"I can't even imagine how different my life would have been had I not received that scholarship. I have had a full and happy life and will always be so very grateful to God and the people He used to make it all happen!"

Barbara died in 2024 at the age of 87.

Perrysville St. John Evangelical Lutheran Church Scholarship

The history of St. John Evangelical Church began in 1831. It was formally organized October 12, 1842 by the Rev. George Schaeffer. The church had 19 members and by 1855 had grown to 198. Grace Lutheran Church and St. John merged in 1936. The church moved to its present location, bringing with it the bell, windows, furniture, cornerstone and name from the old church. The bell and windows were installed in the new church and the church was dedicated on November 14, 1937.

The congregations of St. John, having been blessed with gifts from their Lord and their members, and desiring to keep the name St. John Evangelical Lutheran Church of Perrysville alive into perpetuity, expressed that this scholarship be established and distributed to a Loudonville High School senior each year. They made this scholarship available as a way of sharing their gifts with young adults from the Loudonville-Perrysville communities. Their wish was that each student remember the gift given and at some time in their future would give to others who need help in their lives.

Merle C. & Frances L. Plank Scholarship

The names Merle and Frances Plank are well known in the Ashland area, being life-long members of the community, members in the truest sense, in that they participated in all major areas of the community. They founded a number of local businesses, including three restaurants, Robin Hood, Archway Restaurant, and the Lyn-Way which celebrated its 50th anniversary in 2001. Mr. & Mrs. Plank raised three children, Marlene, Merle Ronald, and Janet, who in turn gave them eight grandchildren and over 12 great-grandchildren. Their restaurants have been a source of employment for Ashland youth for over half a century, enabling hundreds of teenagers to develop responsibility and earn money to pay for their education. Education has always been of great importance to the Planks, and they have supported all of the local educational institutions. It is in remembrance of Merle and Frances's love of children that this scholarship is given by their family.

Betty and Bud Plank Scholarship

Edward (Bud) Plank was a native of Ashland whose ancestors settled here in the 1850s.

Betty Hood moved to Ashland with her family in 1939. Both graduated from Ashland High School and Ashland College five years apart. The couple married in 1952 and in 1960 took their two nieces to raise following the death of their parents in a private airplane crash.

After a stint in the Air Force during WWII, Bud returned to AHS where he taught Physical Education and later Driver's Education for 30 years. He also coached baseball for 24 years and was an assistant basketball coach for 18 years. He had been named Teacher of the Year and the baseball diamond was named Bud Plank Field in his honor.

Betty taught at Polk and Wadsworth before being hired to teach American Literature and Journalism at AHS. She also was the advisor to the school paper. She taught in Ashland for 16 years and substituted for 18 more. Due to their association with young people in the classroom and gym, as well as their relationship in after school activities, the couple enjoyed their years of teaching.

As a member of the board of the Ashland County Historical Society, Betty became interested in local history. This led to her writing a column for the Ashland Times-Gazette and incorporating these into three books for the benefit of future generations.

She was recognized as a Distinguished Alumnus of Ashland High School.

Because of their combined years of more than 55 years as teachers and their association with the students they taught, they established a scholarship available to young people entering the field of education in the hope that recipients will enjoy teaching as much as the Planks did.

She recalled that Charles Kettering had served as substitute teacher when her regular teacher came down with typhoid. As an adult, Powell was active in her church as a member of Women of Zion. She was also a member of the Mohican Historical Association and Loudonville Senior Citizens. Along with her husband, Clifford, who died in 1927, Powell had two daughters, five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. She retired from Loudonville Schools in 1958 and lived to be 101.

In 1988, when Powell celebrated her 100th birthday, the members of her family honored her by establishing a scholarship fund in her name at Zion Lutheran Church with the scholarship now being held at the Ashland County Community Foundation.

Project 80 Wrestling Scholarship

Project 80 Wrestling was started in 1980 when the wrestling room under the stadium was in poor condition. There was no padding on the walls and it was dirty. One young man got a skin problem and another chipped a tooth.

Members of Project 80 hoped to build a new wrestling room. Some of the different ways to raise money were paper drives headed by Cliff McVey, meters from Ohio Edison by Howard Wood and pop cans by Glen Gallaway. Parents helped with bake sales, sold coupon books, hosted an auction and also held July 4th concession stands.

The Advisory Board included A.W. Garrett, Harold Repp, Bill Corcelius and Glen Gallaway.

In recent years, it was decided to fund scholarships, with the Project 80 Wrestling Scholarship established in 2011.

People of importance to the project are Dean Bartosic, Grant Milliron and Nona Meyers.

Michael was a member of the Society of Pershing Rifles as well as a member and senior year captain of the Xavier Ranger Challenge team. In May 2008, Michael graduated from Xavier and was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army. After completing the Infantry Officer Basic Course and Airborne training at Fort Benning, Georgia, Michael was assigned to the 25th Infantry Division and stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. Michael's unit was deployed to Iraq July 1, 2010. On July 21, 2010, while on patrol, Michael's convoy came under attack and was struck by an improvised explosive device. First Lieutenant Michael L. Runyan was killed in action at the age of 24.

While the above paragraph lists dates, facts, and accomplishments achieved by Michael during his short time on Earth, they offer you only a glimpse of the man he became to so many. His older brother Alex, a United States Marine, succinctly summarized how Michael lived his life following three basic principles: selflessness, service to others, and the pursuit of happiness. Michael addressed the needs of family, friends, coworkers, even strangers first, allocating time and consideration for himself only after their needs were met. He recognized every individual with a firm handshake, an enthusiastic smile, and a willingness to offer his services in whatever capacity necessary. Most importantly, Michael embraced every moment of his life in the pursuit of what made him truly happy. His willingness, enthusiasm, and desire to provide aid to and be in the company of others indirectly led this young man through his life to impact more people than he would ever know. The establishment of the Michael L. Runyan Memorial Scholarship is just one small way Michael's family and friends are trying to continue his legacy.
